

BIKING FOR BABIES

2022
ANNUAL

LETTER FROM OUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

“Do not forget that true love sets no conditions. It does not calculate or complain, but simply loves.” – St. John Paul II

The quote above emboldened our t-shirts this year, reminding us of the lengths we must go to truly love. At Biking for Babies, we answer Christ’s call to defend the vulnerable as we sacrifice for women and children we may likely never meet. We converse with those who disagree with our beliefs, not simply to argue, but to share the beauty, goodness and truth of God’s love and to offer moments of conversion. We share that true love means to will the good of another as we aim to change the narrative of a society that tells us otherwise. Everything we do is directed at our aim to achieve a society that embraces the immeasurable worth of every human life.

With that vision in mind, 2022 was another groundbreaking year for the mission: 56 missionaries riding almost 4,000 miles on six routes, advocating for 57 pregnancy resource centers across the nation. Our team is thrilled to announce that in addition to forming the most missionaries and partnering with the most pregnancy resource centers in our 13 years, Biking for Babies is contributing $261,000 to our 2022 pregnancy resource centers and pro-life groups ($61,000 more than in 2021!). These funds that many of you generously donated will allow our centers to walk with women in their most vulnerable moments, providing life-affirming services so that pregnant mothers may feel supported and convicted in choosing life.

God’s provision is tremendous and the ride came together despite adversity. This was a tumultuous year in our culture and more than ever, our missionaries were aware of the risks associated with publicly proclaiming their pro-life beliefs. Before the ride, we discussed safety at length, calling police stations and making action plans. In a time where despair could have set in, we aligned ourselves with the words from Romans 12: 9-12 and held on to hope, knowing the ride was necessary to change and save lives. We are grateful to announce that God made a way for the ride to be not only successful, but also safe and our teams did not have any security issues.

I hope you are encouraged as you learn more about our story in these pages. Our vision has become clearer as we discern God’s will for our mission. The focus is unchanging: to proclaim the dignity of every human life by uniting cycling with the formation of young adults into missionary disciples of Jesus Christ. You will see an increased investment in our missionary formation, most notably the hiring of our Director of Missionary Formation, Aubrie. Alongside this immense growth, you will see hope, joy, and purpose through the eyes of our missionaries and pregnancy resource centers. As you read, we pray you reflect on your role in renewing the culture of life. Every person has a gift to put at the service of life. What is yours?

Romans 12: 9-12:

Let love be genuine; hate what is evil, hold fast to what is good; love one another with mutual affection; outdo one another in showing honor. Do not lag in zeal, be ardent in spirit, serve the Lord. Rejoice in hope, be patient in suffering, persevere in prayer.

Please know of our gratitude for your support and unabashed celebration of life.

God bless you,

Nikki

Day six was brutal. 132 miles and the last 30 were a march of attrition. 102 degrees straight up in St. Louis...heat index of 176 or something. I especially felt like I was riding my bicycle through the warming setting of an oven between the arch and the river, where 100-foot concrete walls and asphalt trails conspired to bring the riders to a nice simmering broil...The crack seal on the roads was literally melting and causing tires to slip in the goo... We were tested in the crucible, and everyone handled every adversity with exceptional grace and maturity. There were times where we may have bent but we did not break...

[On the drive home] As we approached Indy, we came to an intersection and [one of the other missionaries] noticed a woman with a “pregnant & homeless” sign. We made a U-turn and went to work. This was precisely what we rode 560 miles for and swiftly showered her with prayer, pregnancy resource center contacts, and a box full of cycling snacks and t-shirts. It was a gift to be able to help Sierra, her husband Bryson, and their soon to be born son Phoenix.

THIS IS WHY WE RIDE! And thank you Lord for giving us the grace to be able to serve a few of Your children.

SUFFERING FOR THE SAKE OF OTHERS

MARY OHM

3rd Year
Rider and Route Leader
From Witchita, Kansas

Recently I went through a season of life where I lost all hope. [...] Women facing an unplanned pregnancy may also find themselves in a season of hopelessness, thinking that abortion is the only way out of their situation or thinking they are unloved and uncared for. But[...God] won't abandon these mothers, fathers, and babies in their time of greatest need. We, at Biking for Babies, won't abandon them either. That's why we sacrifice and suffer—biking a crazy amount of miles in the July heat to show the world that they matter. Their situations, their struggles, their lives have value. Pregnancy resource centers meet and serve these vulnerable mothers and fathers everyday in their time of greatest need, and I know these centers won't abandon them either.

Hope lives in pregnancy resource centers. That's what the staff and volunteers at these centers are focused on. Providing free services to those in need, and in turn, offering them a light of hope for them to see their future a little brighter.

"We even boast of our afflictions, knowing that affliction produces endurance, and endurance, proven character. And proven character, hope, and hope does not disappoint. Because the love of God has been poured out into our hearts through the Holy Spirit that has been given to us." –Romans 5:3-5

So keep going, because hope does not disappoint.

As a 20 year old college soccer player, Adriana was confused and scared when she found out she was pregnant and started to consider all the complications: "I'm too young. What about family support? How can I finish college? What will my boyfriend say? And so I made the decision: I need an abortion."

Her Google search led to InnerVisions Health Care. Going to her appointment, she decided that if she was having twins, she would not have an abortion. The ultrasound showed twins, and with the help of the staff of InnerVisions she chose life! As Adriana recounts: "They prayed with me; they supported me with information necessary to make an informed decision - I didn't feel pressured. They also shared the risks of abortion, like infertility, and I wanted to have kids in the future."

Believe it or not, Adriana's twins were born on her birthday in July! Now she is "really happy to have chosen parenting" and she "can't imagine life without them."
